FACIAL DIAGNOSIS FOR EVERYONE

David R. Card

Facial diagnosis is the art of looking at a person's face to discover what organ system is not functioning properly, or what disease process may be at work. Our face reflects the health of our body, and when unwanted blemishes, lines, colors, etc. are present, these may be signs of dysfunction. The health of the body is dependent upon our organs, which reflects in our face.

Zen Master
Yueh Shan &
THINKING'S BAD RAP

A Practitioner's Guide

Seiso Paul Cooper

What does it mean to truly “think of not thinking”? The question is posed in a brief yet profound dialogue between the Chinese Chan master Yueh Shan and a nameless monk, opens the doorway to one of Zen’s most important and misunderstood teachings: shikantaza, or “just sitting.

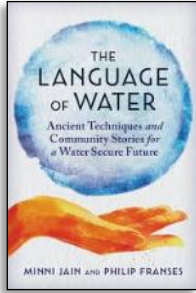

Thinking's Bad Rap re-examines the delicate interplay of thinking, not-thinking, and “non-thinking” (hishiryō), a state that transcends but does not negate thought. Thinking and not-thinking, presence and absence, silence and expression—all are mutually reinforcing when approached through the lens of non-duality. Seiso Chugai Paul Cooper is a psychoanalyst, ordained priest and a transmitted teacher in the lineage of Dainin Katagiri.

PARENTING SKILLS

CONSCIOUS PARENTING

Lee Lozowick

The first two years are most crucial in a child's education and development, and children learn to be healthy and "whole" by living with healthy, whole adults. Parental role-modeling is the most essential component. Conscious parenting, says author and child-advocate Lee Lozowick, includes love, affection and life-positive boundaries for our children, and requires honesty, generosity, compassion and common sense from parents and caregivers.

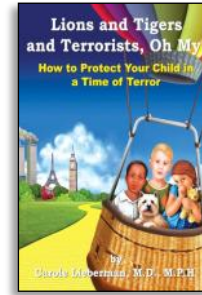

We can't give our kids what we don't have ourselves.

GEOPOLITICS

PHILANTHRO-CAPITALISM: THE EROSION OF DEMOCRACY

A Global Citizen's Report on the Corporate Control of Technology, Health, and Agriculture

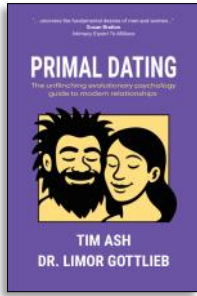

Philanthrocapitalism details how global philanthrocapitalists like Bill and Melinda Gates and affiliated entities work to monopolize and privatize sectors of land use, food production, and public health on a global scale. This anthology pulls back the curtain on how ruthless exploitation branded as philanthropic altruism forges a direct path to global destruction. Their initiatives erode the integrity of democratic institutions often under the banner of future-oriented innovations.

MOONTIDES

A Magical Practitioner's Handbook

Wendy Trevenor

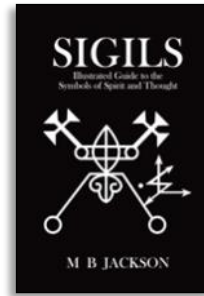

What is the moon? A big chunk of rock, pretty light in the sky, the stuff of nursery rhymes or a possible future home for humans? Ask a scientist, and you will get one answer; ask an astrologer or a witch, and you will get a very different one.

The Moon has many important secrets, especially since she is the nearest object in space to us. Her effect on our world fulfils every magical belief: She moves plants, stimulates animals and herds guides fish and birds, tinkers with hormones, moves oceans and more.

Here you will find how to work magically with the moon and how to synchronize your living patterns to the cycles of the moon.
